"I would rather die of passion than of boredom."

—Vincent van Gogh

---

Wansas didn't begin making tequila solely to make a living—from day one they've had a true passion for the craft; an authentic tradition passed along to this day. This same passion is what also consumes the people drawn to the spirit Wansas stands for—inspiring creative expression and the power of sharing. Wansas is authentic, versatile, innovative, extraordinary and driven by the pursuit of perfection. We support the historians, writers, artists, mixologists and musicians who are consumed with the passion to explore beyond the expected. We hope to inspire you to express yourself in everything you do.

MYSTICAL BLUE AGAVE

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, qui errem expetendis cu, usu malis deter-

A perennial succulent, agave was deemed sacred by the Aztecs in pre-Columbian times. It was used for food and shelter, its flesh eaten and leaves dried and woven into clothing, floor mats, and thatch roofs. Long before agave was ever distilled, it was fermented into a kind of beer imbibed during religious ceremonies as a way to communicate with the gods.

---

---

THE JOURNEY AGAVE

---

It takes at least eight years to make a bottle of tequila, sometimes as long as 20. That's because tequila is not made from the typical grains or fruits most alcoholic beverages are made from. It is distilled from the roasted centre (piña) of the blue agave (maguey) plant. It will be harvested at between 8 and 10 years. That's about 3,000 days before the harvest, a long time to

---

3,500 YEARS IN THE MAKING

---

Tequila starts when the jimador - the harvester - cuts the agave from the ground and starts trimming away the 200-plus leaves that protect it. Much of the work is done manually, rather than by machine, starting with the first planting of the agave shoots, through harvesting, right to the bottling of the final products.
